PRESS

Short Press Item · Volume 01

Der kleine Carl im Rauch der Husaren · Volume 01

Short press item for editorial use

"Der kleine Carl im Rauch der Husaren" opens the Carl Stülpner series with his early childhood in the Ore Mountains. Its starting point is a traditional account of an encounter between his family and Hussars, set against the historical background of the end of the Seven Years' War in 1762/63. A distinctive feature is the digital timeline accompanying the children's book, opening up places, events, historical background and sources. It visibly distinguishes between what is historically documented, what has been passed down and what has been artistically shaped. Volume 01 is published as an A4 hardcover and is intended for reading aloud to children aged 4–10 and independent reading for ages 7–11. ISBN 978-3-907886-01-4; €19.90 (DE), €20.90 (AT), CHF 24.90 (CH).

Note for Editorial Teams

The short press item may be reproduced in full or abridged for editorial reporting and adapted to the style of the respective publication.

Terms of Use

This document is press material from intersaxonia. Editorial teams and journalists may quote, reproduce extracts from, shorten and edit the texts and facts it contains for editorial reporting about Carl & Strups, Carl Stülpner, Volume 01 and the associated project. Changes that distort the meaning are not permitted. Internal sharing within an editorial team and sharing with service providers directly involved in publication are permitted. Independent commercial advertising, product or merchandising use, as well as resale of the document, are not permitted. For direct quotations or reproduced passages, the source must be stated as "Carl & Strups / intersaxonia".

As of: September 2026